

This visualization uses the dimensions of color, size, and shape to show change over time.

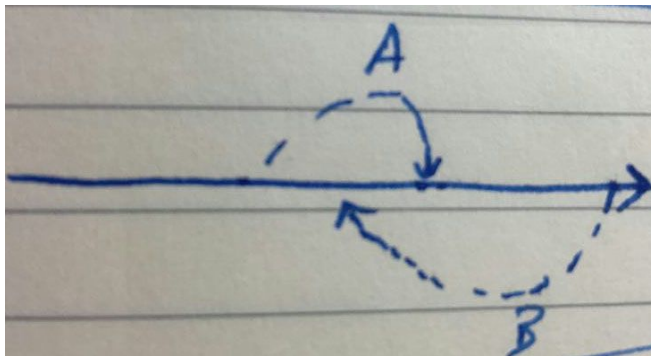

This visualization uses the dimensions of texture and size to show a difference between A and B and also between subcategories thereof.

This visualization uses the dimensions of shape and color and position to illustrate change over time.

This visualization uses position, texture, and orientation.

This visualization uses position and texture.